

Q: Some of those data standards are long, and mousing through them is tiring. Any hints for quick selections?

A: Yes! You have a couple of different options to give your mouse a break.

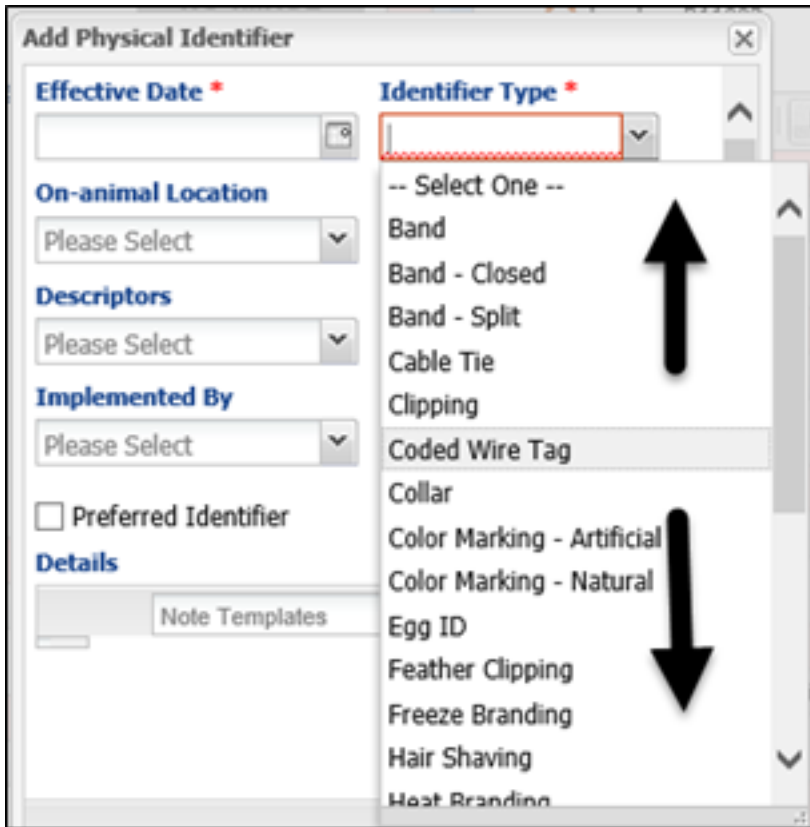

Using your keypad up and down arrows you can quickly navigate through the list. In addition, most data standards are type ahead look ups so if you start typing your selection the list will narrow your search quickly.

Many thanks to Murray Guy from Adelaide Zoo, who submitted this tip!
