

Q: You are helping your daughter with a homework assignment about the needs of siamangs in captivity and wicked Wikipedia is steering you wrong! How can you get accurate information on the species of interest so she gets an “A”?

A: Use Species Holdings to find institutions that are holding the species. Then use the institution Staff list to contact the appropriate person for your answers. Make sure that your staff list Communication Details are complete and your staff is marked Visible Outside My Institution to help others find them. Maybe you will even find an institution close by so she can visit!

Many thanks to Mindy Rabideau at Tracy Aviary, who submitted this tip!
